

WHAT YOU NEED TO KNOW ABOUT OVERDRAFTS AND OVERDRAFT FEES

An overdraft occurs when you do not have enough money in your account to cover a transaction, but we pay it anyway. We can cover your overdrafts in two different ways:

- 1. We have standard overdraft practices that come with your account.
2. We also offer overdraft protection plans, this is a service you can sign up for that links your checking account to another deposit account you have with the bank which may be less costly than our standard overdraft practices. To learn more, ask us about this option.

This notice explains Overdraft Privilege.

➤ What is Overdraft Privilege that comes with my account?

We may authorize and pay overdrafts for the following types of transactions up to the applicable disclosed Overdraft Privilege limit:

- Checks and other transactions made using your checking account
• Automatic bill payments

We will not authorize and pay overdrafts for the following types of transactions without your consent:

- ATM transactions
• Everyday debit card transactions

We pay overdrafts at our discretion, which means we do not guarantee that we will always authorize and pay any type of transaction. If we do not authorize and pay an overdraft, your ATM or debit card transaction will be declined.

➤ What fees will I be charged if Englewood Bank & Trust pays my overdraft?

Under the Overdraft Privilege option:

- We will charge you an OD Limit Fee of $35 each time we pay an overdraft if your account is overdrawn more than $10
• We will not charge you a fee if your account is overdrawn by $10 or less on any given day
• There is a limit of five OD Limit fees ($175) per day that we will charge
